Texas Master Naturalist

Fed up with the Food Court? Ready to ditch the phone calls and listen for bird calls? Itching to put some wildlife back into your weekends?

We invite you to consider the Texas Master Naturalist program. We're a group of volunteers who happily invest some quality personal time in promoting and conserving our favorite entertainment venue- the natural environment. It's important to us to preserve our local natural areas so that future generations may follow our footprints down the paths we love to explore.

Interested? Good. We need you!

The Texas Master Naturalist program develops local "master volunteers" who provide education, outreach, and service to benefit the management of natural resources and natural areas within their communities. Master naturalists in the Texas Panhandle partner with organizations like Palo Duro Canyon, Wildcat Bluff Nature Center, and the Boy Scouts, to name a few. Dedicated and well-informed volunteers provide vital leadership to community-based conservation efforts, youth education programs, and effective operation of park and natural areas.

Classes for our next training program begins Feb. 13 2010; registration deadline is January 30 2010. If you would like to request more information, please contact:
